

Vision for 2016
Partners in Policymaking Class of 2006

What will life be like for people with disabilities in the year 2016?

- Money and services will follow the person.
- All forms of transportation will be available and accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
- There will be equal opportunity to participate in recreational and athletic events and programs.
- Institutions will be replaced by independent, community-based living options.
- There will be universal, affordable housing for everyone.
- All facilities will be physically accessible.
- All individuals who want to work in the community will do so and there will be unlimited opportunities for self-employment.
- Assistive technology will be available to meet the needs of everyone.
- There will be inclusive, available and affordable child care for all.
- There will be opportunities for everyone to worship without restrictions.
- We will have a fully trained, qualified and professional workforce.
- Services will be flexible in meeting the needs of families.
- We will have a government that is accountable and responsible.
